GLASGOW ACADEMY

Dear Parents

Well, I am still redistributing bits of kit all over the place and I hope your child has thoroughly thawed out. We had a fabulous weekend. Of course it did not go entirely according to plan, but it certainly went well. I decided not to climb any trees as they looked a lot less robust than any of the children and I think we would have damaged the trees significantly. The children seemed to be absolutely swept up in the pursuit of rescuing Dr Sowdon and Mr Etherington, which was a delight to behold! The efforts made by Mr Duff, Mr Etherington and Dr Sowdon were invaluable to the children's experience.

I appreciated your patience with my communication - it was more than a little challenging and there are certainly a few lessons to be learned there for next year.

I would be very grateful if you could send any feedback that you or your son/daughter has with regard to the weekend. With this I can develop further events and courses for them and future years at The Academy.

Yours sincerely
